THE

GRAHAM JOURNAL,

OF

HEALTH AND LONGEVITY.

DEVOTED TO THE PRACTICAL ILLUSTRATION OF THE SCIENCE OF HUMAN LIFE AS TAUGHT BY SYLVESTER GRAHAM AND OTHERS.

DAVID CAMBELL, EDITOR.

VOL. II.

Boston:
NO. 9, WASHINGTON STREET.
New York:
NO. 126, FULTON STREET.
1838.

64

CONTENTS

OF

VOL. II. OF THE GRAHAM JOURNAL,

ARRANGED BY NUMBERS IN THEIR ORDER.

No. I.

	page
Introduction to Volume II.	1
Notice of Dr. Lambe's Letter,	4
Sir John Sinclair's Code of Health and Longevity,	6
Sudden Changes, No. 3,	7
Decay of Teeth, No. 1,	10
Extracts from Letters,	13
A Word of Encouragement.	14
Filtered and Distilled Water,	15

No. II.

Decay of Teeth, No. 2,	17
Causes of Dyspepsia,	20
Masturbation and its effect on Health,	23
Lobelia,	26
Boiling Extraordinary,	27
Food of the Frozen Regions,	27
Opinion of Professor Alban G. Smith,	28
"The Choice"—Between Candy and Tobacco,	29
Testimonial of a Student.	30
The Boston Almanac,	32
What is the best mode of preparing food,	32
Second course of Lectures on Physiology,	32
First An. Rep. of the Am. Physiological Society	32

No. III.

Jellies, Preserves, &c. No. 2,	33
New Modes,	37
The Friend of Virtue,	37
Grahamism and Insanity,	38
Epilepsy and Flesh Eating,	41
Importance of Cleanliness,	42
Letter from a Student,	43
Apoplexy—Cause and Effect,	44
Extract from Haskell's Address	45
Statement from Elder Elisha Morgan,	46
Statement of Mrs. Morgan,	47
Extraordinary Case of Electrical Excitement,	47

No. IV.

Decay of Teeth—No. 3,	49
Opinion of Professor Alban G. Smith,	54
Professor Smith on Vegetable Diet,	57
Experience,	58
"Every man makes his own health."	60
Cassa Coccinea—a new article of food for invalids,	62
Multiplicity of Physicians in American Cities,	62
Spontaneous Gangrene,	63
Instinct and Intelligence,	63
An Anti-Grahamite,	64
Rules for the Sedentary	64
Cause of Dyspepsia,	64
Shocking Mistake.	64
Gonorrhœa Ophthalmia,	64
Great Flour Market of America,	64
Anti-Coffee House Efforts,	64

No. V.

Diseases of the Skin,	65
Palermo Conversationes,	67
The Dyspeptic,	69
When free from hereditary disease, how shall we secure permanent health,	70
Tricks upon Travellers,	71
Who shall decide when Doctors disagree,	73
The Breach widens,	73
Remarkable Case of Biliary Calculi,	74
Eruptions of the Skin,	75
Erysipelas,	76
Cotna—Cure for Warts,	77
Reflections of one who has suffered from the use of Animal Food, &c.	78
Important to Parents,	80

No. VI.

Decay of the Teeth,	81
Coffee and Cocoa.	87
Vegetable Diet for Farmers,	89
Diseases of the Skin caused by the Graham System,	90
Encouraging Prospects in New York and Newark,	93
Honest Concessions,	94
Lotions for Eruptive Diseases,	94
Thorough-going Grahamites,	95
Medical Examiner,	96
A good beginning,	96
Lectures on the Science of Life,	96
Biblical Lectures,	96

No. VII.

Tobacco chewers, smokers and snuffers,	97
Tobacco chewers—Another strong case,	99
Testimony of Distinguished Physicians in favor of a vegetable diet,	101
Longevity of early Christians and others,	106
Convention of the friends of Physiological Science,	107
Ultra abstinence from animal food,	107
Effects of coffee drinking on stature.	108
Ossified man,	109

78061

The study of the Human Frame—its importance, 109
Receipes for plain cooking, 110
Prentice's last—and best, 111

No. VIII.

The Western Journal, &c. 113
Obituary Department, 117
An Important Case, 125
Remarkable Case of Croup, 127
Proposals for publishing Graham's Works, 128
Graham Boarding School, 128
Physiological Society's Provision Store, 128

No. IX.

The Tobacco Eating Habit starved off, 129
Abernethy's Advice to a Yankee, 130
Lectures before the Am. Physiological Society, 131
Am I my Brother's Keeper, 136
Case of Amaurosis from Plethora, 139
Epistaxis, or Bleeding at the Nose, 139
Eruptive Disease, 140
Health and Longevity in New Hampshire, 142
Physiological Convention, 144

No. X.

What is Thirst? 145
What is Pain? 153
What I would do if I were a King, 156
One lesson more for Prof. A. G. Smith 158
What is nourishing, 159
American Health Convention, 160

No. XI.

Excessive Alimentation, 160
Graham System in Palestine, 162
Blood letting dangerous in some cases, 165
A Fact worth remembering, 166
Avarice versus Health, 167
A good Investment, 168
Treatise on Epidemic Diseases, 173
Anniversary Week in Boston. 176
Palm leaf Mattrasses, W. C. C. 176

No. XII.

Fits in children, 177
Forth-coming Facts, 180
Letter from a Correspondent, 181
Popular ignorance an obstacle to Medical Reform, 182
Testimony of another Physician, 183
St. Anthony's Fire. 184
Meeting of the American Lyceum, 185
Popular poison—Tobacco eating, &c., 187
American Health Convention, 188
Physiological Society—Second Anniversary 189
An obstinate case of Dyspepsia, 189
American Physiological Society, 192
Young House Keeper, 192

No. XIII.

Vegetable Eaters, 193
Thoughts for those who will read them, 197
Nitrate of Silver, &c. in immense doses, 200
The Wine Question, 204
Lemon Syrup, 206
High Living and Mean Thinking, 207
New Publications, 208
Comparative Longevity, 208

No. XIV.

First American Health Convention, 209
Remarks by Rev. Mr. Fitch of Boston, 210
" Professor Mussey of Dartmouth College, 210
" Rev. Mr. Parsons of Jamaca Vt, 211
" Rev. Mr. Hoadly, Charleston, 211
" Dr. Wm. A. Alcott, 211
" Mr. Graham, 212
Resolution of Den. Eddy, 213
Remarks by Dr. Mussey. 213
Letter from Mr. Goodell of Utica, 213
Introductory Remarks by Mr Graham, 215
Resolution and remarks by Mr. Pierpont, 216
" Hon. Mr. Sprague of Duxbury, 216
" Mr Walker, President of the Convention, 216
Remarks by sundry Gentlemen, 216
" Mr. Morton of Plymouth, 218
" Mr. Mason of Bangor, 218
" Dr. Carpenter of Freetown, 218
" Mr. Damon of Cambridge, 219
" Mr. Earl of Leicester, 219
Letter from Mr. Hall of Plymouth, 220
" Dr. Jennings of Derby, 220
Anniversary of the Physiological Society, 220
Remarks by Mr. Graham, 220
" Mr. Walker, 220
Resolution by Mr. Graham, 222
Cooperation of Health Societies, 222
Constitution of the Boston Society, 223
Rules, &c. adopted at the Health Convention, 223
Health Bookstore, Works on Health. 224

No. XV.

Reformation at Sixty, 225
Structure and functions of the skin, 225
Erysipelas, or St. Antony's Fire, 228
Laws of Mortality, 234
Popping off. 235
A Clean Man, 236
Health and Decay of the Teeth, 237
Graham's Lecture to Young Men, 238
Disease unnecessary, 239
Testimonials to Mr. Graham, 239
Another Casper Hauser, 240
Singular and fatal doses of medicine, 240
Tracts on Health. 240
Milk and 'still slops,' 240

No. XVI.

Ventilation of Apartments, 241
Physical Reformation, 244
Facts for the consideration of Tea Drinkers, 245
Physiological Lectures to Females, 248
Temporay or Infant Teeth, 249
Soda Water, 249
Good effect of Adam and Eve's Diet. 250
Dr. Mussey.—Horses and Men, 251
A Voice from the Far West, 252
Good Bread, 253
A Voice from Europe, 254
Longevity—Bread, 255
Longevity in New Hampshire, 256
Splendid Bathing Establishment, 256
Portable Shower Baths, 256

No. XVII.

History of the Albany Orphan Asylum, 257
Physicians, 260
Physical suffering the consequence of violating law, 263
Anatomy of the Human Teeth, 265
Unhappy Marriages, 266
What kind of minds make the best Grahamites? 267
Is Buttermilk Nutritious? 268
Violence of fever mitigated by the Graham system, 269
Dr Alcott's Work on Vegetable Diet, 272

No. XVIII.

History of the Albany Orphan Asylum, 273
Internal Eruptions, 276
Sudden deaths from over distention, 280
Cruelty to animals to gratify depraved appetite, 282
Dental Hygeia, 283
Technicals, 283
Permanent or adult Teeth, 285
Milk Sickness, 287
Milk and 'Still Slops,' 287
Feeding Infants, 287
Evils of Taciturnity, 287
Pennsylvania Lyceum, 287
Temperance House in New York, 288
Lectures before the Ladies Society, 288

No. XIX.

Diseased Milk—Mortality of Children, 289
Our third and last meal of the day, 292
Corpulency and Gluttony, 293
Stop when you have done, 295
Sickness a reproach, 295
Tea Drinking, 296
Suicide! what term more appropriate? 297
Pure Air, 297
What articles of diet to be received and rejected, 298
Symptomatic Buzbears, 299
Anti-dyspeptic Pills for Students, 300
Diseased Teeth, 301
The stomach the physical conscience, 302
The Tomato—Food and Medicine, 302
Thomas Carn, aged two hundred and four years. 303
Fruitfulness of the season, 303
New York Health Depository, 304

No. XX.

Recovery from protracted ill health, 305
Dr. Tickner versus vegetable diet, 309
Health of Girls, 311
The Dyspeptic, 312
Death of Children and Infants in New York, 313
Obituary, or death by the Graham system, 314
Firmness indispensible in a Grahamite, 315
Formation of Health Societies, 316
Anatomy and Physiology—Female Education, 317
Dog's Flesh—The Mutton of China, 319
Leanness versus obesity, 319

A victim of opium, 319
Manufactory of maple sugar, 319
Apples two years old, 320
Physiological Boarding School, 320

No. XXI.

Is the Tomato a medicine or an aliment? 321
Correct dietetic habits important to travellers, 332
Diseased Teeth, 334
Lectures to Ladies on Anatomy and Physiology, 335
Dr. Ticknor versus vegetable diet, 336
Effects of Tight Lacing, 336
Reply to Queries suggested by a Correspondent, 334
Out of your Latitude—Reply to a 'Subscriber,' 335
Beauty and Health, 335
The Graham Journal of Health and Longevity, 336
Useful Work for Families and Schools, 336
Interesting Lecture repeated, 336

No. XXII.

Lectures to Ladies on Anatomy and Physiology, 337
Reply to a Subscriber in Newark, 342
Obituary Notice—Another Friend Fallen 343
Prevention the only certain cure, 346
Dr. Ticknor versus vegetable diet, 347
Why are hard boiled Eggs indigestible? 349
The Dog has returned to his vomit again, 350
Man was not constituted a flesh eater, 351
The Graham Journal of Health and Longevity, 351

No. XXIII.

The Tomato Food and Medicine "—Not done with yet, 352
Is it so?—That the Human System throws off Five or six pounds daily? 356
Lectures to Ladies on Anatomy and Physiology, 357
Physical, Mental and Moral Restoration of Health, 359
The Young Husband, 362
Collegiate Institutes For Farmers, 363
The House I Live In, 364
"Rising For Information," 365
Transmutation of Whisky into "Pure Wines," 366
An Old Laborer—Is the Story True? 366
A Diseased Stomach most liable to engender Living Insects, 366
Overloading the Stomach, 366
The Graham Journal of Health and Longevity, 366
The Cultivation of Intellect tends to Health and Long Life, 367
Perpetual Spring, 367
A Gormand's Appetite, and a Crammer, 367
A Question for Astronomical Speculation, 367

No. XXIV.

Fickleness of Tobacco Eaters, 369
Tea and Coffee, 371
Healthy Children may be trained even in cities, 372
Lectures to Ladies on Anatomy and Physiology, 373
The Organs of Excretion.—Reply, &c., 375
Dr. Wright's opinion of Tea and Coffee, 376
Anecdote with an application, 377
Vegetable diet a new notion, 378
Think of these things as winter approaches, 379
Peter's vision of four footed beasts, &c., 380
What Quantity of food is requisite for the invalid. 380
An instance of early developement of hereditary disease, 381
Evils of excessive alimentation, 382
Distillery Milk.—Medical testimony, 382
The Scurvy a concomitant of the Camp and War Ship, 382
The Love of Butter—or inveteracy of habit, 382
Map of the Ear, 383
A new compound for epicures, 383

No. XXV.

Second volume of the Journal bound, 385
Mr. Graham's Work ready for the press, 385
Lectures to Ladies, 385
Obituary Department, 386
Agents of the Physiological Society, 386
Peter's Net again, 388
Danger from picking the teeth with a pin, 388
To the friends of the Journal, 388
An Explanation of Technical and other hard terms, 388